

.∴ Business Intelligence

We understand how to ensure you're able to get to the data you need, regardless of where it resides – from accounting and financials to human resources, inventory and other performance data. But it's not just getting you the data you need. Jelecoss also ensures you have the analytics you need to make sense of it.

With Jelecoss you're able to move decision-making beyond spreadsheets and other reporting devices to take advantage of:

- Real-time reporting and analysis
- Charts, graphs and other graphical representation
- Complex report development and ad hoc queries
- Intuitive dashboard design

As a result, Jelecoss is able to provide you with a full complement of business intelligence benefits, which include the ability to:

- Identify trends and exceptions in your business operations
- Standardize information and analysis to make information more consistent across the enterprise
- Develop data warehouse, hosting and ETL solutions that more closely reflect the needs of your business today – and in the future

With Jelecoss, your business is able to work smarter – accessing the right information, to make the best decisions.
