Secure data protection – each time, every time

The security of your data isn't just a regulatory requirement - it's also good business practice. It ensures you have access to critical data anytime and anywhere. Most importantly, it also assures your customers that you are aware and concerned for their business assets, securing and protecting their information with the best systems and protocols available. DataVault from Jelecoss makes this possible.

DataVault provides an efficient and affordable alternative to traditional tape back-up and already over-extended IT departments. It provides you with a fully automated online solution that includes centralized and automated backups of PCs, file servers and application/database servers, along with secure off-site storage and immediate online restoration.

With DataVault you can easily determine and maintain control of the data to be backed up and the number of backup versions to be retained on disk. At the same time, DataVault lifts the burden of ongoing management and maintenance from your internal IT resources – with Jelecoss providing 24x365 monitoring of services and scheduled backups.

DataVault is an excellent means for routine data storage and can provide these business benefits:

- Eliminate the costs of hardware, software and human resources required to capture, store and maintain data
- Scales to meet the data storage needs of any size organization or capacity required
